

My Art Has Principles Art Project

Artists often do figure studies, mock paintings, drafts, and musical samples before they create their masterworks.

Today, your job is to create a visual art artwork that not only looks good, but means something. To make sure that you communicate with the viewer effectively, you need to help him/her by using the elements and/or principles of art. If you can aid the viewer as he/she looks at or listens to your artwork, then you are creating something worthwhile.

The questions below will help you organize your thoughts and allow you to begin thinking about your masterpiece that will be intelligent and communicative.

Once you have completed the written portion of this assignment you may begin on your artwork.

Think of an event, person, place, or issue that you find interesting. Briefly tell its story on the back of this paper (at least two paragraphs).

Now, ask and answer the following questions to help bring your "story" to fruition:

What elements of visual art will help me convey a message?

List 4 of the elements.

- 1.
- 2.
- 3.
- 4.

Which principles of visual art will I use to successfully communicate to my viewers?
